

MARTIAL ARTS Scholarship Fund

Member School Information Binder

Martial Arts Scholarship Fund (MASF) is a 501(c)(3) public charity formed to provide scholarships to individuals and families to study the martial arts. MASF makes agreements with local martial arts schools to provide services to scholarship recipients. MASF seeks schools that want to help their communities while also providing valuable education in physical fitness and self-defense. The relationships with member schools are integral to the mission of MASF. That mission is to provide opportunities to low-income individuals, at-risk youth, and families to study the martial arts. Therefore, we only consider those schools whose values match up with those of MASF for membership. The relationship between MASF and member schools is to be mutually beneficial. The following is a description of the main ways in which this relationship will benefit both MASF and the member school.

MASF is a public charity. All donations to MASF are tax-deductible. Contributions go to benefit specific member schools and, subject to the member school agreement, are entirely allocated to the particular member school. Funds allocated to each member school are available to the member school for scholarship recipients and other services. MASF grants scholarships to applicants who meet the eligibility criteria as outlined in the scholarship selection guidelines and recommendations from the member school. Each member school receives monthly reports of their funds available for scholarships, students attending on scholarship, and financial transactions between MASF and the member school. (See member school account reconciliation, for example.)

MASF has identified distinct groups of people who can be a market for scholarships. Lower-income individuals and families interested in learning martial arts are the primary groups that MASF will target. By offering full and partial scholarships, MASF hopes to provide these groups with a valuable learning experience to apply to all aspects of their lives. The second group of scholarship "purchasers" is available at the member school's discretion. This group consists of people who cannot afford the total price of a martial arts education. The third group is young persons who want to earn their scholarship, much like a boy scout would sell popcorn to attend their festival. By working with MASF, these motivated youths would buy products from MASF to sell in their neighborhoods, schools, grocery stores, etc. These youths would also be helping to earn scholarships for others. We earmark a portion of their earnings to go for general scholarships that we allocate to member schools.

MASF will work on its own for donations and will solicit donations from established donor lists. Additionally, MASF will apply for grants and other assistance from the government and other non-profit organizations to grant scholarships. All funds generated by the efforts of MASF will be allocated to member schools on a pro-rata basis based on the contributions generated by each member school.

MASF selects member schools based on several criteria. Schools that address the whole person physically, mentally, and emotionally are best suited to provide training to scholarship recipients. MASF seeks schools that promote honor and respect amongst its students. MASF seeks member schools that will put forth their efforts to raise funds for the scholarship fund benefitting their interests in the process.

What the Member School Service Plan Agreement Means?

The service plan agreement is an agreement between MASF and the member school regarding the services provided and expected from each party. An explanation of each service is provided here:

- a) Provider of Scholarships - We will provide scholarships to students that apply to our fund that can either be assigned by us to your school with your approval or that come from an applicant selected by the member school. Applicants that come from the member school with the member school recommendation will be priority applicants and will be approved for scholarships on a priority basis.
- b) Provide fundraising opportunities – There are many ways to raise funds for the MASF and the member schools efforts at generating contributions directly benefits the member school. The fundraising ideas section has plenty of ideas that can benefit the member school.
- c) Apply for grants – MASF will work with other non-profits and government agencies to garner grants for its charitable purpose. This work will benefit each member school based on the member school's share of donations to total member school donations. Only member school donations are considered for this calculation of the pro-rata share of grants.
- d) Solicit donations – MASF will solicit donations in various responsible and respectable ways for the benefit of its member schools. The same pro-rata allocation will be used as is used for grant money allocations.
- e) Return 94% - MASF is contractually obligating itself to return to each member school at least 94% of their own contributions (net of expenses) in the form of scholarships or other services. A member school's own contributions are those contributions that are directly tied to a member school through either notation by the donor in some unambiguous form or is a direct result of the member schools efforts through their own fundraising activities for MASF.

- f) Provide fundraising services – MASF can act as a provider of fundraising services when a member school wants to do a big fundraiser such as a banquet, tournament, raffle, or other fundraising activity. Prices for services vary depending on the level of services offered and the time required of the persons providing the service.
- g) Review of scholarship applications – Review, approval, and follow up of scholarship applications and applicants is a step by step process that requires MASF to document each process for each student who is approved for scholarship assistance. It is very important to track the progress of school-aged scholarship recipients to ensure that they are not only receiving a physical education but are also learning discipline and responsibility as part of their martial arts education.
- h) Provide accounting - As part of the agreements with MASF, the member school will be a "sub account" in the accounting system of MASF. It will have funds available to it, and will be notified in a timely manner of the balance of those funds available so that they can plan on submitting new applicants to the fund as their balance affords. (See the member school account reconciliation sheet for an example of the reporting provided.)
- i) Promote the member school through MASFUSA.ORG – MASF will provide links, sign-ups, and sales promotions through our website. Member schools can provide scholarship pricing directly on our website. Links and promotional web development can be at any level of commitment.

What are member school responsibilities and obligations?

- a. Pay a membership fee annually – Each member school will pay an annual fee to cover administrative expenses incurred by MASF. One student for a year would more than cover the cost of the yearly dues, and any student over that amount would be profitable for the member school.
- b. Pay for fundraising activities – The member school can engage MASF to provide additional fundraising services if they plan big fundraising events.
- c. Provide free students - MASF is provided one student free of charge for every five monthly students in attendance under MASF scholarships. This free student will primarily be used to offer to at risk youth or provide scholarships to backlogged students. This free student will be provided based on a formula of monthly credits for paid MASF students. One full time paid student per month equals one credit, and 60 credits equal five students paid for one year. Once 60 credits are accumulated, MASF has the right to place a student at the member school free of charge for one year.
- d. Provide services at a discount – Being a charity, MASF does not have deep pockets to pay full retail prices and would like to negotiate certain discounts. Therefore, MASF respectfully asks for a negotiated discount on your services.
- e. Participate in an annual raffle – Each member school will purchase an allotment of 1,000 raffle tickets to sell in their business. See the annual raffle agreement for the details on participation in the raffle.

How do funds accumulate for the benefit of member schools?

- a. Upon signing up as a member school affiliated with MASF, the first order of business is to notify your existing patrons of your new affiliation and respectfully ask for donations to "seed" your MASF account. MASF has designed a sample letter for the member school's use in raising funds for its account.
- b. The member school should take a proactive approach to raise funds for their school's benefit. Funds raised by a member school directly benefit the member school and increase the member school's share of general scholarship funds to allocate. A sample list of ideas for fundraising is listed on page 5.
- c. As mentioned above, MASF engages in its efforts to raise funds. These funds are sourced to the general contribution funds, and then we allocate on a pro-rata formula to each member school based on each member school's fundraising efforts.
- d. MASF works for grants from governments and other non-profit foundations and charities. MASF allocates these funds in the same way that we allocate general contributions.

Groups of Individuals and Families Served

There are five unique groups of people that MASF is hoping to serve. MASF classifies scholarship recipients into the following categories:

- 1) Low-Income Individuals. These are people who desire to learn the martial arts, but cannot afford the lessons. MASF will provide funds to qualifying applicants as a first priority. The funds for providing scholarships to this group will mainly come from donations and grants to MASF from the various funding sources. This is an underserved market due to the affordability of many martial arts schools. By providing opportunities to this group, MASF will increase a school's exposure to customers without impeding current marketing efforts utilized by the school.
- 2) Low Income Families. Groups of two or more people related by common ancestry constitute the second group of people who MASF will direct its efforts. Again, this group of people will receive top priority in providing scholarship funds. Funding will come from the same sources as Class 1. Allowing families to study the martial arts together, MASF hopes to foster family togetherness and increase bonding amongst families.
- 3) At Risk Youth. Youth in the courts system for small crimes or truancy is the next class. Children in this group are given priority following the first two classes. Funding will come from the same sources, but will also be part of the free students provided by member schools.
- 4) Scholarship Purchasers. This is a group of people who would act as fillers for your incomplete classes. By allowing MASF to offer anyone to purchase a scholarship at your business through our website, you would earn 95% of your

- 5) Scholarship Earners. These scholarships are for motivated youth who want to earn their scholarship through their efforts. These individuals will contract through MASF to purchase items for resale. A portion of their purchase price goes into their account for their scholarship, and a part of their earnings goes toward the general scholarship fund for use by other groups. Additionally, this group will use fundraising letters to be sent to their friends and family members who want to assist them in obtaining a scholarship.

Member School Fundraising Plans

MASF employs various programs to raise funds for the scholarships. Some of the programs to raise funds that can be utilized by individual Member Schools are as follows:

- 1) The first avenue of fundraising should be an email, social media web posting, or other communication to all school patrons to inform them of your new relationship with MASF. This solicitation letter will seed your MASF account and hopefully get your school the monies to allow at least one new student to attend your school for one year. A sample letter is provided, and with the assistance of MASF, this initial mailing can be an excellent starter for your school.
- 2) Participation in the MASF raffle will net you over $9,000 if you sell your full 1,000 ticket allotment.
- 3) Fundraising auctions are a great way to raise money for the scholarship fund. They can take many forms and can be easily added to the activities at other school-sponsored events.
- 4) Banquets and dinners that benefit MASF are a great tool to add funds to your MASF account. MASF is available to assist the member school with planning and implementation for a fee.
- 5) A charity head shave can have a significant impact on the school's fund account. It makes for a great fundraising idea if one of the Master's gets the head shave. And it can be very lucrative.
- 6) Competitions and tournaments can be a source of funds. With MASF as a benefit sponsor, additional funds can be allocated to the school's MASF account.
- 7) Selling cookbooks and other items to benefit your MASF account are also good ways to raise funds.
- 8) A change jar at the front desk can also be an excellent way to increase the school's MASF account. Every little bit helps a low-income child or family enjoy the benefits of your school's martial arts program.
